CULTIVATING FUTURE LEADERS

To redesign society in the 21st century Malaysia's aspiring leaders must develop the skills, knowledge and awareness to challenge business orthodoxy and revolutionise policymaking.

The Malaysia Young Leaders Programme (YLP) draws on GIFT's internationally recognised curriculum and experiential learning methodology to promote mindset shifts and behaviours required for effective leadership and cross-sectoral collaboration.

Free of management theories, rich with real-world insights, the YLP uses live projects at the intersection of business, policy and sustainability to hone problem solving skills and nurture purpose-driven professionals.

The programme reignited a sense of purpose in my life and provided a timely wake-up call to rethink my role as the next generation of leader. It was a privilege to be able to contribute to the project and solve a real-world issue through the experiential learning methodology. The programme provided a strong platform for leadership development through an environment that enables participants to cultivate and demonstrate their own unique qualities.

2 weeks of personal discovery, a lifetime of professional impact. An unparalleled transformative learning experience, I grew as a leader, as a person and realised the positive impact that I can contribute to the world. The programme is indeed, a GIFT.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT THROUGH SARAWAKIAN ARTS, CULTURE AND HERITAGE

In Module Two resilience, drive and commitment are tested through a live project where outcomes really matter. Participants hone strategic and commercial acumen through business model generation, stakeholder engagement and cross-sectoral collaboration.

Interventions by facilitators encourage real-time reflection, coaching and mentoring to help participants internalise and apply their learning.

In Sarawak, participants will make recommendations for elevating Sarawakian arts and culture to drive sustainable development. They will produce a business model and institutional framework to convene government agencies, private corporations, social enterprises and community based organisations to preserve, cultivate and promote a robust heritage ecosystem.

On the final day of the programme participants will present their original ideas at a public forum in Kuching.
